

Fision SoyLift

Once found only in East Asia, the popularity of soy has exploded in recent years as customers have become both increasingly health conscious and aware of the many health benefits inherent in this “Yellow Jewel,” as it was known in ancient Asia. As consumers have become savvier, they are now looking to their cosmetic products to deliver exceptional functionality with the same natural, friendly image they have come to expect from their diet.

Fision SoyLift takes advantage of the many cosmetic benefits offered by soy to deliver long-lasting skin tightening and skin smoothing in a natural, environmentally friendly product.

Fision SoyLift is an exceptionally synergistic combination of two all-natural skin tightening materials, plus a natural tightening booster that provides a smooth and long-lasting effect on the skin.

Hydrolyzed Soy Protein

An excellent film former, soy protein both moisturizes and tightens the skin, effectively reducing the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles, while also improving skin health and feel.

Acacia Senegal Gum

This naturally derived material, frequently seen in food (especially candy) applications, effectively adds tightening, smoothing, and feel-improving properties to any skin care application.

Xanthan Gum

The “secret ingredient” in Fision SoyLift, this thickener and film former prolongs the tightening effect on the skin.

A small amount of preservative is added to complete the final complex.
